Main content

Realcorp Commercial Cleaning is a Melbourne-based commercial cleaning contractor delivering student accommodation cleaning services across Melbourne and Adelaide, covering purpose-built student accommodation, co-living facilities, and university-affiliated residential buildings.

Student accommodation operators face a cleaning challenge unlike almost any other commercial property type. Rapid room turnover during changeover periods. Continuous communal-area maintenance across hundreds of residents. Reputational exposure tied directly to student experience. The operational environment demands precision, scale, and verified delivery.

When a room isn't clean for an incoming student, it's not just a facilities issue. It's a complaint, a social media post, and a conversation no operator wants to be having.

The problem: scale, speed, and consistency

Large-scale student accommodation operates at a pace most commercial cleaning contractors aren't built for. Summer and semester changeovers require dozens, sometimes hundreds, of rooms deep cleaned within a compressed window, whilst the rest of the building keeps running. Communal areas serve hundreds of residents simultaneously and need to hold a standard regardless of what's happening elsewhere.

The operational variables are real and significant.

Room turnover volume. A 300+ room building doesn't turn over at a comfortable pace across a full week. Changeovers happen in concentrated windows, often days rather than weeks, requiring a cleaning operation that can surge capacity without losing quality control.

Communal area traffic. Kitchens, laundries, bathrooms, lifts, study rooms, and common areas in student accommodation are used more intensively than equivalent spaces in most commercial buildings. Resident satisfaction scores track directly against the maintenance standard of these areas.

Verification and accountability. Operators and property managers need to know cleaning happened, not just that it was scheduled. A missed room, an unclean shared bathroom, or a delayed turnover creates immediate downstream problems that compound fast.

Staff reliability. Sending an unknown subcontractor or a casually-engaged labour hire worker into a student accommodation building, one that houses young adults, international students, and people living away from home for the first time, is an unacceptable operational and reputational risk.

The stakes: what goes wrong without the right contractor

Operators who have experienced cleaning failures understand the downstream cost. It's rarely contained to the original problem.

Delayed re-occupancy. A room that hasn't been properly turned over can't be handed to an incoming resident. In peak periods, that delay cascades across dozens of rooms and pushes settlement dates.

Resident complaints and online reviews. Student accommodation is a high-review category. Cleanliness consistently features in negative reviews, and those reviews move fast through student networks.

Communal area deterioration. Without consistent daily maintenance, deterioration compounds quickly. A marginally dirty kitchen today is a genuine hygiene problem within a week if the maintenance rhythm breaks down.

Compliance exposure. Residential accommodation carries duty of care obligations to residents. Persistent hygiene failures in communal areas create tenancy, health, and liability risks that no operator wants to manage reactively.

Why Realcorp: built for scale, verified in real time

Realcorp Commercial Cleaning was built for high-volume, high-accountability environments. The same operational infrastructure that supports our aged care and commercial clients underpins our student accommodation services. The systems are the same. The standards are the same.

Direct employment — zero subcontractors

Every Realcorp cleaner is directly employed by Realcorp. We run zero subcontractors and don't engage labour hire agencies to fill surge capacity during peak turnover periods. When our team arrives at your building, every person has been recruited by us, vetted by us, inducted by us, and is employed by us.

In student accommodation, that matters. You know exactly who is in your building. Their conduct is our responsibility. Their training is our investment. Their performance is our problem to resolve, not yours.

GPS-verified attendance and digitally tracked checklists

The Realcorp App delivers GPS-verified attendance for every cleaner on every shift. Digital room-by-room checklists are completed in real time, timestamped, and accessible to your management team immediately.

During a turnover, you have live visibility: which rooms are complete, which are in progress, which are pending. There's no end-of-day "we think we got through them" conversation. You have an auditable record.

For communal area maintenance, daily completion records provide an ongoing log confirming that each area was cleaned as scheduled. That record supports your own property management reporting and provides accountability evidence if a resident dispute arises.

Surge capacity without outsourcing quality

Peak turnover periods demand more cleaning capacity than ongoing maintenance schedules. Realcorp plans and resources for those periods. We don't suddenly introduce unknown casual workers to fill the gap. Our team structure allows us to scale capacity whilst maintaining the same standards, the same quality controls, and the same One Team approach.

A quality guarantee that holds

Realcorp backs every service with a money-back quality guarantee. If a room or communal area doesn't meet the agreed standard, you don't pay for that service. That's a real commercial commitment, not a marketing phrase. It works because our quality systems are tight enough that it rarely needs to be invoked.

Proof: the Yugo partnership

Realcorp Commercial Cleaning is the cleaning partner for Yugo, one of the world's leading student accommodation operators, across three campuses in Melbourne and Adelaide.

Yugo Carlton, Melbourne — 345+ student rooms plus communal areas and shared facilities across a major Melbourne inner-city campus.

Yugo Berkeley Street, Melbourne — 335+ student rooms in Melbourne's CBD-adjacent precinct, requiring daily communal maintenance and semester-period turnover cleaning.

Yugo Adelaide — supporting 700+ students at Yugo's Adelaide campus, extending Realcorp's service capability across state lines.

Three campuses. Hundreds of rooms. Thousands of students. One cleaning partner.

This isn't a pilot project. It's an ongoing operational partnership with one of the most demanding student accommodation operators in the market. Yugo's operational standards are high, their student expectations are specific, and their reputation depends on consistent delivery. Realcorp meets that standard daily, and the record is digitally tracked to prove it.
